

Civil Justice Scholarship Award

Nomination Form

The Pound Institute will present a Civil Justice Scholarship Award, bi-annually as possible, to recognize current scholarly legal research and writing focused on topics in civil justice, including access to justice and the benefits of the U.S. civil justice system, as well as the right to trial by jury in civil cases.

Before making a nomination, please review the award criteria.

1. Complete the following two sections:

Nominator information

Name: _____

Title/Organization: _____

Email: _____ Phone: _____

Nominee information:

Name: _____

Organization: _____

Email: _____ Phone: _____

Title of published scholarly work qualifying the nominee for the award, with publication date, citation, and URL:

2. Include a statement, in your own words (750 words or less), of how this scholarly work comports with the description of this award. Include digital copies of the work, as well as of any newspaper articles, reviews, or citations regarding the publication if available. Digital copies of all materials must be made available.

3. Nomination form and supporting materials must be received by September 17, 2018, submitted to:

Pound Civil Justice Institute
777 Sixth Street, N.W., Suite 200, Washington DC 20001
mary.collishaw@poundinstitute.org / Fax: 202-298-6390